A visit to the college’s Trade Training Centre is met with a cacophony of sounds from students operating wood and metal lathes, drills, saws and hammers. In their senior years students are able to complete certificate courses in engineering and furniture making, as part of their studies which contribute to a Queensland Certificate of Education. While their counterparts grapple with subjects leading to a university education, those students who have chosen a vocational pathway hone their trade skills at the school level, at TAFE and on the job with school-based apprenticeships. These skills will prepare them for future work in trade-related occupations.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear Parents, Carers and Friends of St Stephen’s

“It is not by isolation that man establishes his worth, but by placing himself in relation with others and with God.” — Pope Benedict XVI

As the first semester of 2016 draws to a close, it is timely to reflect on our journey to date and our relationships with each other and with God. Our students have spent the first part of this year becoming familiar with the expectations of their year level, as well as embracing the college’s Mission Statement.

For our year 7 students in particular, it has been a steep learning curve adapting to the demands of secondary schooling which involves taking responsibility for one’s learning and becoming more independent. Along with students in other cohorts, they have had to learn the art of effective time management, so that assignments are submitted on time. Unfortunately, some students still struggle to comply with our assessment policy, while for others, the distraction of social media has had a significant effect on their academic results. Parents are urged to monitor their children’s use of technology at home. Only with co-operation between the home and the school can we achieve improved outcomes for our students.

In order to ensure that we are providing our students with the skills they need for the 21st century, our college has employed an external consultant to carry out a digital analysis of St Stephen's in term three. Part of the process will involve surveys of stakeholders—teachers, students and parents. I thank you in advance for participating in this survey if you are randomly selected. Following the digital analysis, recommendations will be made by the external consultant about the options available for the use of technology in our college.

In keeping with the service to others charism of our college, it was very refreshing to witness two acts of selflessness on the part of our students since the last newsletter. Hosting the Greatest Morning Tea, in support of cancer research, was a tremendous success due to the generosity of students in donating items for sale.
Overwhelmed with contributions, the college was able, in turn, to make donations to Rosies for their Friday night in the park. Due to the great success of last year’s inaugural event, a second Youth Rally was held on 3 June. The enthusiasm which our young people brought to this ministry event is a testament to their leadership qualities, their desire to serve and their interaction with God through active prayer. I would like to thank Mrs Gilbert and Miss Sugars for inspiring our students to be witnesses to their faith. Through involvement with community activities, our students are experiencing a sense of purpose which gives more meaning to their lives and makes the gospel come alive. (Matthew 25:40-45 “The King will reply, ‘Truly I tell you, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers and sisters of mine, you did for me.’”)

Another community-building exercise for our college is the inter-house athletics carnival which takes place on Thursday 23 June from 12.25 pm to 3.00 pm and all day, Friday 24 June. Attendance on these two days is compulsory for all students and I ask parents to ensure that their children are at school.

As part of the college’s culture, students are encouraged to participate and try their best at all endeavours, regardless of their sporting ability. If there is a genuine reason for non-participation in events, students are able to assist in many other ways, as well as providing moral support for their peers. Commitment and team work are very valuable qualities to develop in life. Upon enrolling at St Stephen’s, students have agreed to be part of the life of the college which includes academic, sporting, cultural and spiritual experiences. Parents are very welcome at this event and parental involvement helps to create the sense of family which is an integral part of our college.
FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Our expansion to existing buildings is progressing well, with most teaching staff able to be located in a refurbished staff room in semester two. The extension to the library will also provide improved services to students. While the administration block is undergoing refurbishment, there will be some changes to the location of office staff. I apologise in advance for any inconvenience this may cause in the first few weeks of term three. My temporary location will be in the library and other members of the leadership team will be housed in various locations around the school until the administration block is available for occupancy.

This includes reception which will be attached to student services. Clear signage will direct parents to reception while this construction is in progress.

Schools are dynamic places with change as the norm. At the end of each semester, some students relocate for family reasons. Our best wishes go with them to their new schools. We are pleased to announce that Mr Howe is remaining with the college for term three in the capacity of senior English teacher. Mrs Croxford resumes her role as Pastoral Leader for Year 11 in term three, and I take this opportunity to thank Mr Luff who has cared for this cohort while she was on leave. The college community also welcomes Mrs Fiona Adil to the position of School Officer, Learning Support.

The many achievements which our students have earned this semester would not have been possible without the dedication, professionalism and commitment of the staff at our college. This includes the tremendous support which the leadership team provides to me in the execution of my role as principal. As well, the generosity of our parent body in providing support to me in the execution of my role as principal and to the college community also welcomes Mrs Fiona Adil to the position of School Officer, Learning Support.

FROM THE DEPUTY PRINCIPAL CURRICULUM

Our Mission Statement encourages our students to become independent learners and to achieve their personal best. The focus in the remaining weeks of this term is on the completion of tests and assignments. While all students desire success, not everyone is prepared to work hard to achieve this goal. In particular, our Year 7 and 8 students may find it difficult to adjust to the assessment structure and demands of secondary education. Our students need to be organised, to focus on their schoolwork, and to work towards achieving their personal best. They will require good time management skills to balance the different demands on their time. Parents are encouraged to support their children to form good study habits in the home environment. If we work together, we can assist our students to achieve their potential and learn from their mistakes. Before the end of the term all students will be issued with a Study Planner to assist them in their efforts. Our Guidance Officer, Mrs Michelle Hall has provided further information in this newsletter relating to their distribution and other study resources available for families to access.

With the semester coming to a close, the culmination of our students’ efforts over the past semester will be recorded in the formal reports parents will receive during the holiday. These reports, based on a student’s achievement for an entire semester, are more formal than the interim reports issued earlier in the year, and comprise the overall level of achievement for each subject studied, as well comments about a student’s work ethic and behaviour. Over the past five months, students have learnt some very valuable life skills—good time management, organisation, resilience, persistence and effective communication.

For our Year 11 students in particular, these skills are reflected in the work ethic and behavioural comments, with the reports providing feedback about the subject choices they made at the start of the year. Any student from this year level who wishes to make a subject change must organise an interview before the start of semester two. Students will be required to fill out the necessary paperwork before transferring to a different subject and parents should be aware that their signature is mandatory for these subject changes. If there are any questions about subject changes, feel free to telephone me at the college. All Year 11 and 12 results in terms of students’ progress towards achieving a Queensland Certificate of Education are being monitored, and if necessary, parents will be contacted for interviews.

Many of our Year 10 students have been actively seeking work experience. Participation in the program is voluntary with arrangements varying from a few days on a single day, or for only part of the day. As the work placement program is the first step toward students selecting their educational pathway in Year 11 and 12, we strongly encourage students to access the voluntary program and seek their own work experience in an area that is related to their career aspirations.

While work experience usually occurs during the school week in some cases, students can work on weekends or on school holidays. The most suitable term time to schedule work experience would be in one of the following periods.

Term 2 Week 10, 20 – 22 June
Students will not be given permission to attend work experience on 23 and 24 June due to the Athletics Carnival.

Term 3 Week 10, 12 to 15 September
Students would be expected to return to school on 16 September to join in the celebration of St Stephen’s Day.

To provide our students in Year 9 with as many elective opportunities as possible, changes to electives are permitted and must be finalised within the first two weeks of the semester. There is a waiting list for some classes, but all students have been placed. Students have been notified of their electives and will receive confirmation of their allocations with their Semester One Report.

Year 7 and 8 will be issued with their Term 3 timetables on Thursday 23 June. Families are encouraged to access the online stationery lists to ensure that students have the required materials ready for the beginning for the new semester.

Many thanks for your continued support,
Mrs Andrea Chiesa

FROM THE DEPUTY PRINCIPAL RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Opening Doors in the Year of Mercy is the theme of this year’s Catholic Education Week, to be celebrated in week three of next term. In this Jubilee Year of Mercy, Pope Francis calls us to open the doors of our hearts so that we may share God’s love and forgiveness with others and to give generously to those in need. Throughout the past two weeks, it has been inspiring and heart-warming to witness this call to mercy being lived out by many staff and students in our college community.

On Thursday 2 June, the Social Justice Committee and Student Representative Council came together to organize a Biggest Morning Tea fundraiser for the Cancer Council. We were overwhelmed by the generosity of students who volunteered to donate drinks and baked goods, and the willingness of parents to give generously of their time and talents to be of service to others. Thank you also to the sea of staff and students who embraced the idea and the spirit of giving. We were able to donate some of the leftover treats to Rosies Mareeba.

Also, on Friday 3 June, an enthusiastic group of 25 students gathered for our Year of Mercy Youth Rally. Again, we were impressed by the great witness of these young people who shared their gifts and talents as musicians, speakers and leaders as they considered what it means to be people of mercy through song, discussion and prayer. Anna Jimenez, our guest speaker from Catholic Mission, also thanked our students for their inspiring example of faith and joy. We plan on holding another rally this year, so please keep an eye out for further details.

Finally, congratulations to Paige Koljin, Connor Coghlan and Claudia Roers who celebrated the Sacrament of Confirmation last Wednesday. It has been a pleasure preparing these young people for their sacraments and journeying with them over the last few months.

Mrs Laura Gilbert
Assistant Principal Religious Education
As we approach the end of term two, students are working hard to finish all assessments. Reports will be send to all parents and guardians in the first week of the school holidays. In the envelope with the reports, there will be a login and instructions to Parent Teacher Online for you to book interviews with your student’s teacher. Parent teacher interviews will be on Thursday 14 July from 3.30 pm to 7.30 pm.

To finish the term, Ms Morrow is busy organising the athletics carnival for the Thursday afternoon and Friday of week 11. This is great way to end the term with some competitive house competition. May the best house win.

Term three starts on Monday 11 July with parent teacher interviews in the first week and school photos on Wednesday 20 July. I hope that all parents and guardians have received this information. You can pay online for photos or return the envelope to school guardians have received this information. You can pay online for photos or return the envelope to school.

Year 12 OP eligible students will be participating in an all day QCS practice trial on the 21 July. Non-OP eligible students will go to their normal lesson on that Thursday. This is great opportunity for Year 12’s to improve on their written task after the feedback they received from Ms Carol Richardson earlier this term.

I wish you all a safe and relaxing holiday.

St Andrew’s Scholars Program (University of Sydney)
St Andrew’s Scholars are exceptional young men and women who thrive academically, are engaged in life and have the potential to make a significant contribution to our College and, in the future, the wider community. The College provides students of outstanding abilities with a residential environment that enhances their university experience, providing them with opportunities to extend their talents and interests and to develop lives of meaning. Tailored academic and professional mentoring is available for our St Andrew’s Scholars.

The scholarships provide the scholars with full fee relief per annum, awarded for the duration of each student’s undergraduate degree, whilst they live in St Andrew’s. Application forms and eligibility criteria can be accessed online, via our St Andrew’s Scholars page: www.standrewscollege.edu.au/st-andrews-scholars/

Interested students are encouraged to submit their application as early as possible.

How to Apply:
Download the application form and follow the instructions to submit it, along with the relevant attachments. Successful applicants will be able to demonstrate a broad range of the St Andrew’s Scholars attributes. These attributes are detailed on the application form. Applications for the 2017 intake close on 22 July 2016. Shortlisted applicants will be required to attend an interview with the selection panel between 6–7 August 2016.

QTAC Guides
QTAC Guides for Year 12 students and QTAC Tertiary Prerequisites for Year 10 students are due to arrive before the the end of term two. Year 12 students should spend part of their upcoming holidays familiarising themselves with the QTAC Guide and narrowing down preferences for their applications that are due on 30 September.

Students will need a total of six preferences when lodging online applications and an application planner will be handed out to assist students in narrowing down preferences. Individual interviews for senior students will take place in term three to ensure students have made appropriate choices in light of their individual results and subject prerequisites.

Year 10 students are also encouraged to consult the QTAC Tertiary Prerequisites when planning for subject selection. Tertiary courses will list senior subjects as Prerequisites (P), Assumed Knowledge (A) or Recommended Study (R). If a student is intent on applying for a particular course in future, it is best that subjects selected for Years 11 and 12 cover both Prerequisites (P) and Assumed Knowledge (A) to ensure success in both applying for and studying these courses in future. These selections will be discussed at SET Plan interviews, also in Term 3.
The adventure began in class with students working collaboratively in small groups to develop a menu plan and organise a shopping trip to purchase their food prior to the trip, and learning how to cook their meals on trangias (lightweight camp stoves).

Day one was a long day of travelling. We left St Stephen’s at 9.00 am and reached Lucinda where our small ferry awaited us at 3.00 pm. Landing at George Point at 3.30 pm saw the group hiking five kilometres along the pristine beach with views of mountains with a prehistoric appearance to inspire awe. We then travelled inland two and a half kilometres through rainforest and crossing five creeks until we reached the stunning Mulligan Falls, our first destination for the night.

Day two was the most strenuous. Although we only hiked seven and a half kilometres as we did on the first day, the trail was a steep climb for the most part of the day. Students were rewarded with breathtaking views over Hinchinbrook, taking many photos to show their families at home. A steep decline descending Zoe Falls took the group to Zoe Bay, a white sandy beach reminiscent of a postcard.

On day three, the group journeyed fourteen kilometres through diverse surroundings. The day began by travelling through several palm swamps in tall rainforest leading further through a succession of vegetation types, from dry open forest to rainforest and mangrove swamps. Shoes were wet and muddy, but spirits were high. The next beach had to be accessed by rock hopping around the small headland (a highlight for a number of the students), leading the group to yet another pristine white sandy beach. The group were happy and relieved to set up camp for the final night on the beach at Nina Bay, but were disillusioned about the 4.30 am wake-up call to reach the ferry by 7.00 am.

Students were packed up and ready to go by 5.30 am on day four, with torch light leading our way through mangrove forest and seasonal watercourses. Spirits were definitely high when the group reached the long sandy beach by 6.30 am. Some students, and teachers, took their packs off and relaxed taking in the stunning views, while others had races, with packs still on, along Ramsay Bay keen to get one step closer to the ferry that would whisk us back to the mainland, a real breakfast and most importantly, toilets with running water.

Semester one is drawing to a close and it is important in these last two weeks of term that students are reflecting on the semester and taking on feedback from teachers so they can work out a plan to improve their results in Semester two.

Here are some suggestions to help improve your maths result:

Develop a study routine – this should include revision of notes and working on extra questions from the text (not just the ones set for homework).

Improve your mental arithmetic - don’t underestimate the importance of improving your mental calculations and working on speed. While calculators are readily available these days, it is very beneficial for students to be able to do basic sums quickly in their heads. There are plenty of online activities and apps which can help you improve your mental arithmetic.

Come to Mathematics tutoring - Mathematics tutoring is offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the MCR during second recess and on Wednesday afternoons from 3.00 pm to 4.00 pm in the library (Year 10-12 only).

Ask your teacher for help - it seems the simplest and easiest strategy but it is probably one that is most effective and is often least utilised. Coming to see a teacher at lunchtime, after class or simply raising your hand during a lesson can go a long way to improving comprehension.

Upcoming Maths dates:
- AMT Mathematics Competition - Thursday 28 July
- Yer 7 and 8 QAMT Maths Quiz – Thursday 4 August at Atherton State High School
- ICAS Mathematics Competition - Tuesday 16 August
- Year 9 Maths Camp (Term 3 – date TBA)

STUDENT DIVERSITY

Year 11 students Caysha Duncan and Ellie Hughes, accompanied by Mrs Gail Musch, attended a dinner at the Double Tree Hilton in Cairns On Friday 3 June.

The purpose of the dinner was to bring together senior students from secondary schools across the diocese to celebrate the end of Reconciliation Week.

It was a wonderful opportunity for our students to be addressed by inspirational Indigenous leaders who are excellent role models in their fields of medicine, business and community development.

We hope to have more students from St Stephen’s attend next year as Caysha and Ellie both believed that it was a very worthwhile experience and were inspired.

THE ARTS & LOTE

I take this opportunity to renew my gratitude to the Arts and LOTE teachers for their constant dedication, enthusiasm and hard work. Not only they are extending their own knowledge to ensure the best learning outcomes for each one of their students, they are also graciously giving their time and effort outside the classroom to provide their students with more opportunities to enhance their skills.

I wish to congratulate all the students who chose to study the very rewarding Arts and LOTE subjects offered at St Stephen’s. I particularly want to congratulate our young Year 7 and 8 Language Ambassadors for their participation at the JCU Language Conference, Year 10 Student Jamie Malcolm who participated in the Reach Arts Camp and Year 12 Visual Art student Daria Long, whose art work was selected to participate in the important Receive and Respond Art exhibition launched in Cairns last Friday at Crate59.

More than ever, twenty first century students need to extend their horizon, their creative skills and their imagination. Soon, next term, students at St Stephen’s Catholic College will have the opportunity to choose the subjects they wish to study in Years 9 and 11 next year. Aiming at developing every student’s highest potential, subjects like Visual Art, Media Art, Drama, Music, Japanese, French and Italian are to be seriously considered, as each one of them will not only teach students new skills, but they will also teach them to become more confident people able to think objectively and rationally outside the box.

According to Professor Robyn Ewing from the Australian Council for Education Research, to realise their full potential it is essential that students “learn to wonder about, as well as, learn to wonder at”.

I wish everyone a nice holiday.

Mrs Francoise Nozaic
Curriculum Leader - The Arts & LOTE

On Friday 27 May, six students: Luke Wood, Sinead Wolff, Isaac Strickland, Arosh Heenkendra, Rosa Askey-Doran and Kahili Durano attended the Young Language Ambassadors Conference at James Cook University, as part of our languages program.

The aim of the conference was to promote internationalism in schools and increase students’ retention in languages. The students listened to various guest speakers who spoke about the benefits of learning more than one language. The students enjoyed the conference.

The six students who attended this conference are now Language Ambassadors for St Stephen’s Catholic College. Their job is to promote languages and to help organise school language competitions for the near future. I look forward to the students’ participation in languages.

Kind regards,

Miss Laila Nozaic

THE ARTS & LOTE

Year seven students are coming to the end of their Japanese studies and are working hard on their final speaking task. Rather than have one final test, we have small speaking tasks completed over that term that are the main form of assessment. These speaking tasks can be tried when they feel confident and the task can also be tried again to improve their results. The final task is called the ‘big conversation’ and involves most of the language patterns that they have studied this term.

The year nine/ten students have completed their assessment tasks for this term and now are looking at enjoying some Japanese food to finish off the term. They cannot relax too much as we are starting term three work next week.

Below is a request for expressions of interest for families to host a pair of Japanese students at the end of next term. It is a wonderful opportunity for Japanese language students to develop their language skills and inter-cultural understanding.

THE ARTS & LOTE

The Visual Art room has been a hive of activity this term with students drawing, painting and creating ceramic works across the Junior year levels. Our Senior students have pushed their creative abilities to expand their skills in mixed media and printed artworks.

Year 12 Visual Art student, Daria Long was successful in applying to be a part of the annual Receive and Respond exhibition in Cairns. Curated by local artist Ricky Beresford, the exhibition is a chance for students in North Queensland to collaborate with students from other schools. Students apply by entering an artwork that has been created as part of their senior studies.

The artworks are then divided up and swapped between participants, who then have to create an artwork in response to the once they have received. Students from schools as far south as Innisfail up to Thursday Island applied, and out of over eighty applicants, Daria was one of only thirty-three accepted to be a part of this year’s exhibition. The opening night was Friday 10 June at Crate59 in Cairns and it was fantastic to see student work of such a high calibre in Cairns being viewed and celebrated by so many people. The exhibition continues at Crate59 until 24 June. Well done, Daria!

This year, one of our focuses is to offer all students more study skill techniques. Over the next couple of weeks, all students in Year 7 to 11 will receive a large laminated Student Planner with a reusable pen. Year 12 students will receive an electronic copy of the planner. Students will be able to reuse these planners throughout their schooling. The front of the planner has a section to record:

- Student timetable
- Notes and reminders
- Goal chart
- Daily learning and study routine
- Term Planner

On the back of the planner are some tips on:

- How to set up a study timetable
- How to set goals and objectives
- What is homework and how to make it pain free
- How much study to do each night
- How to destress

Teachers will be going through PowerPoint presentations in Religious Education classes to show students some effective study skill strategies.

The P & F association kindly paid for a subscription this year to an online study skills website. Students can use this at home or at school. The website address is: www.studyskillshandbook.com.au. Students have been told the Logon and Password. Please contact their class teacher or me if they have forgotten how to log on.

Some of the topics on this interactive website include:

- Working better at home and school
- Improving how you study and your skills
- Extra technology mini-units
- Extra general mini-units

On the school website, there is interesting information under the Schooling Years 7-12 tab such as:

- Under the assessment tab, you will see a calendar each term which outlines when assignments are due for each year level.
- Under the Careers tab, Mrs Murat has placed information on: careers, university information, finding a job, career quiz and profiles, and information for parents. Mrs Goleby has information under the Vocational Education tab relating to apprenticeships and traineeships.
- We are also subscribing to the Options Career Information and this is emailed to Senior Students.

Please look out for the Study Planner when your child brings it home in the next couple of weeks. I am hoping that it will provide families with an opportunity to discuss goals, plan home and study commitments and to record assessment deadlines.

Kind regards,

Mrs Michelle Hall

Congratulations to all of the St Stephen’s students who tried out for the Readers Cup.

The Readers Cup requires a team of four students to read a set of six books. Teams then compete with other schools to answer questions about these books. The competition challenges students to read widely, work collaboratively in a team and continue developing a love of reading. Students started reading these books during the Easter holidays and during the last seven weeks met once a week to discuss and question each other about the books. We were lucky enough to have five teams vying for a chance to represent the school at the regional competition. The students then competed in a school friendly competition to decide which two teams would travel to Cairns for the next round. The last week before the event the students in the two representative teams gave up every lunch time to prepare for the competition.

The two teams comprised of:

Year 8 - Jack Burnside, Arosh Heenkenda, Emily Perrett and Gordon Yates
Year 7 - Sara Donovan, Maya Freeman, Annabel Rogers and Sophie Schrale

There were 23 teams competing in Cairns this year and our Year 8 team finished in eighth spot and the Year 7 team just missed the podium by placing fourth.

I would like to thank all the students from Years 7 and 8 who gave up their free time to compete in the Readers Cup.

Congratulations to all the students for their wonderful participation.

Term two has flown by, with students fully embracing the life of a high school student, taking all school has to offer in their stride. All Year 7 students have settled back into term two with ease and their confidence and enthusiasm has grown immensely. Many events have taken place this term, with students representing Mareeba District in cross-country, netball, chess, soccer, and futsal. Students have been very keen to take on school life fully both by their efforts towards study and extra curricula activities. It is great to see the work ethic and enthusiasm of many Year 7 students develop throughout term two.

Over the past few weeks of this term, assignments and tests have increased and the pressure of submitting work by the due date intensified. Parents are encouraged to work alongside their Year 7 child to assist them with keeping on top of the workload and to help them manage their time to ensure completion of assessment due dates, homework and teacher’s comments. The Student Record Book (SRB) is a great source of information with valuable tips due dates, homework and teacher’s comments. The SRB is a great source of information with valuable tips. It is important to advance.

Parents and children are looking forward to the upcoming break. I hope families have time to spend quality time together enjoying the company of their loved ones. I know the Year 7 students will well and truly deserve the break that is coming.

Students often think they have ‘no time’ to study as many of them think of study time in terms of two hours or more. While long time slots are necessary (in higher year levels), medium and short time slots can be used just as effectively, especially for Year 7 students. A well-used 15 minutes is more effective than a wasted two hours. Using time on bus, car trips home or lunch times is an effective use of time. Parents are encouraged to thoroughly monitor their child’s SRB (Student Record Book) and assignment calendar (on the school website) to help keep track of assessment.

Students are encouraged to:
- Place the planner in a position with easy access to it.
- Write in the dates when assignments are due and exams are scheduled.
- Work out how long is needed to complete each task. Allow plenty of time.
- Remember to allow time for extra workload. If several assignments are due at the same time, begin each task earlier than usual.
- Set start dates for each task. Write on planner. Draw lines back from the due dates to ‘start’ dates. Use different colour pens for different subjects, assignments or exams. (Doing this will give a good indication of how much time is needed to complete tasks and acts as a cue to start them).

TIPS FOR TERM THREE

As we near the end of semester one, it is good to see that the 76 students from Year 11 are adjusting to the pace of Senior High School which places demands on personal organisation, resilience and getting along. Ensuring the completion of small things helps with the bigger learning picture. Over the past week, students were involved in their first set of block exams. Normal school lessons have been suspended while exams take their place. At the end of week 10 classes recommence and then there is the annual school athletics carnival on the final two days of the term two.

Many new and interesting challenges begin to arise around this time. Driver training, socials, differing freedoms and part-time work so as to earn those extra dollars which is so much appreciated. However, it is always best to keep the focus on your learning. There is plenty of time to do those interesting things as the years unfold ahead. Please keep a balance on activities so as not to divert your energies away from formal education.

We warmly welcome Mrs Stacey Crockford back from maternity leave to take up her position as the Year 11 Pastoral Leader in term three. From news around the traps, Mrs. Crockford has been very keen to get back to her official role. Also, congratulations on being a new mum with her daughter Gracelynn.

In conclusion, please enjoy the upcoming mid-year holiday, recharge the batteries for a busy semester two and come back with a positive outlook on learning. Yes, school can be a nice place but requires the right attitude! Maintaining that healthy balance on all matters is such a blessing during your formative years. Good luck with semester two of Year 11.
