FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear Parents and Friends of St Stephen’s,

The following is the Principal’s Report delivered on Awards Night on Wednesday 26 October, 2016.

Congratulations to all students who received awards, performed in the cultural presentations or fulfilled leadership roles!

INTRODUCTION
As a Catholic school, we have the rewarding task of educating the mind, body, spirit and hearts of our students. My report will focus on the faith dimension, teaching and learning and community engagement that is an integral part of what we do at St Stephen’s Catholic College.

WHAT MAKES A GOOD SCHOOL?
For the past ten (10) years, our college community has devoted its energy to developing a solid foundation and strong ties with our stakeholders. It is now timely to reflect on what makes a good school and how our focus on faith formation, teaching and learning and connections with our community enhances the product we offer to students. Good schools share these characteristics:

- Care for the individual
- An inclusive nature which is multi-cultural, multi-social and multi-intellectual
- Spiritual growth experience
- Community focus
- Respected and respectful teachers
- Experience for growth through service to others

FAITH DIMENSION
The presence of our very own chapel on college grounds has played a significant role this year in the faith formation of both staff and students. All teaching staff participated in a retreat at the start of the year which strengthened our Catholic identity and reinforced our holistic approach to be teachers of students rather than just being teachers of particular subjects.

From the students’ perspective, there have been many opportunities to strengthen their relationship with God. These have included the Wednesday morning prayer session and class masses in the chapel and the Youth Rally based on the Year of Mercy. In addition, the National Evangelisation Team visit and the Year 12 Retreat at Genazzano have provided our students with spiritual reflection and faith formation activities. While in its infancy, the Sacramental Programme which Mrs Gilbert, the college’s Assistant Principal, Religious Education has instigated, has resulted in several students taking the sacraments this year.

TEACHING AND LEARNING
The core business of any school is teaching and learning. While modern, well-resourced classrooms and a beautiful environment such as the one we enjoy at St Stephen’s, are desirable features of any school, research has shown that the greatest impact on student learning is the quality of its teachers. This year, as part of a Diocesan initiative, we embarked on a visible learning project to improve student outcomes through intensive mentoring, coaching and feedback to both teachers and students.
In 2015, the year 12 cohort achieved outstanding results. Not only did 100% of students receive a Queensland Certificate of Education, but St Stephen’s was once again in the Queensland University of Technology’s Blue Group for consistently having 97% of students receiving an OP between one and fifteen.

I would like to extend my appreciation to our teachers, the year 12 students of 2015, and their parents for the manner in which all parties worked together to achieve this great result. As we approach the end of school for the graduating class of 2016, I wish our year 12 students the very best in their future aspirations. They have worked hard in their senior year to fulfil their goals and we look forward to celebrating their success once the 2016 results are released later in the year. The other standardised test, NAPLAN, produced good outcomes in 2016, while also informing us of areas which require improvement.

As our school population grows, so do our curriculum offerings. In a rural environment, it is important that we offer both academic and vocational pathways. This year, the academic curriculum has been enriched with the extension of Music to years 9 and 10, Robotics to year 8 and the addition of French and Italian at year 9 level. The strength of vocational education and training is evidenced in the productivity that occurs in our Trade Training Centre and the diversity of the School-based Apprenticeships and Traineeships which senior students undertake. The educational field is dynamic in nature and it is important that a school is proactive in embracing new initiatives. In preparation for the changes to the senior landscape in 2019, when students will be required to undertake three internal assessments, and one external assessment, our college is part of a trial for external assessment in Geography.

Opportunities for students to engage in multi-cultural, multi-intellectual and multi-social activities exist in the form of the newly-developed chess programme, as well as enrichment activities such as Mooting, Readers Cup, the Lions Youth of the Year and Optiminds. These experiences allow students to excel outside of the traditional classroom.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT
A sense of family and community is one of the cornerstones of the St Stephen’s Catholic College culture. Never was this more important in our college, than when we experienced the tragic loss of one of our year 12 students. It was heartening to see how the students and staff drew strength from each other at this very sad time. We relied on kindness, empathy, prayer and the compassion to help us through those difficult days and I thank you all for the overwhelming support you provided to our community.

CONCLUSION
The success of a school is very much influenced by the quality of its teaching staff and the support it receives from parents and the wider school community. We are very fortunate to have hard-working, dedicated and well-respected educators who challenge our students to be the best they can be in mind, body, spirit and heart. I am grateful for their generosity in providing assistance to students at after school and lunch time tutorials. We are also fortunate to have our volunteer parents who coach Robotics and Futsal in their own time—your generous service to our college makes a big difference to our students’ success in these areas.

Without the support of the leadership team and the teaching and non-teaching staff at St Stephen’s, my role would be more challenging—I thank you for your loyalty. The assistance of the College Board, the Parents and Friends Association, Catholic Education Services and parents during 2016 is also greatly appreciated.
FROM THE SOCIAL JUSTICE COMMITTEE

The Social Justice Committee commenced its annual ‘St Vincent De Paul Christmas Hamper Appeal’ in week two and is encouraging all students to support this project. The appeal provides assistance to families in need in our local community during Christmas. Through donations, our school is able to follow Jesus’ example of being of service to others. Students are encouraged to donate non-perishable food items, soft drinks, Christmas decorations and party goods.

Each home form has received a bucket to collect the goods, which, each morning, will be delivered to S8 by a representative. The goods will then be donated to St Vincent de Paul to be distributed amongst the community. Last year, our school generously donated 20 full boxes of items to those in need and we are aiming to surpass this number in 2016.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Finally, I would like to acknowledge the 536 students from Year 7 to Year 12 who make up our college. You are the reason we are here and I am extremely proud of each one of you. You respond positively and respectfully to all that we ask of you in every aspect of college life. Most importantly, to be the best you can be, requires you to embrace our values in all that you do. My challenge to you is to respond to the message of Pope Francis to the youth of the world:

“Stop being couch potatoes, throw away your gadgets and go out to explore the world”.

With Trust in the Lord,

Mrs Ida Pinese | Principal

FROM THE ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL - RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Congratulations to our St Stephen’s Catholic College Relay for Life teams who raised over $3,500.00 for Cancer Council Queensland and successfully completed the 18-hour relay last weekend at Davies Park, Mareeba. Twenty-three students took part in the event, walking their way around the relay track in solidarity with cancer survivors and carers and in memory of those who have lost their battle with cancer. Our teams showed great enthusiasm and teamwork, not only on the track, but also during their Relay’s Got Talent Performance and Zumba workout.

Thank you to the teams who baked goods, washed cars, busked and sought out donations and sponsorship for this worthy cause, and for those staff, students and parents who supported our teams during their fundraising and at the event. A big thank you to Mrs Pinese, Miss Crothers, Mrs Bernardi, Mrs Pritchard, Miss Peters, Mrs Holden, Ms Stevens, Mr McLennan, Ms Chiesa, Mr Gilbert and Mrs Spena for assisting with supervision of students at Relay for Life. Also a special thank you to our Gold Sponsor, Immigration Gurus and Silver Sponsors, Spena Service Centre and Easy Bobcat Hire for your generous support of our teams.

St Stephen’s Catholic College held its annual Arts Exhibition on Thursday 13 October 2016. Congratulations to the Arts/LOTE Department for a very successful exhibition of students’ talents.
This term is already in full swing and the students have hit the ground running to enable all tasks to be completed in such a short and busy term. It has been a pleasant experience to be a Pastoral Leader to the Year 9 cohort, as they are generally an ambitious, well-mannered and friendly group of young people.

There appears to be a healthy sense of competitiveness amongst these students both academically and in the sporting arena. This sense of purpose, combined with a will to succeed, is a strong motivator for the majority of students in this cohort. Congratulations to those students who received a variety of awards at our annual Awards Night this week. It is fantastic to see such an extensive list of students who have been consistently working hard to achieve their best in a variety of fields.

I would also like to congratulate the Year 9 students who have competed in a variety of sporting events over the past few weeks, especially to the Futsal team that competed in the state championship on the Gold Coast last weekend.

A reminder that the Year 9 Community Day at Sugarworld in Cairns, is next Friday 4 November. Nearly all permission forms are back for the day and if you do have any questions prior to the day, please feel free to contact me. All students are encouraged to attend on the day as it forms part of the community-building initiative that is part of our college’s ethos.

It has been great to watch the Year 9 cohort continue to develop into young, mature adults during 2016 and I look forward to a wonderful end to the year with them.

Please contact me via email if you require any form of pastoral assistance in relation to your child, email: shayes1@sscc.qld.edu.au

Guidance and Counselling News – Supporting and Enhancing SEL at St Stephen’s Catholic College

Teen Sleep Deprivation and the Effect of Blue Light.
The following article is an extract from Generation Next and was written by Collett Smart, who is a registered psychologist and Psychology tutor at UWS in Sydney. I hope you find this article of interest, as it may explain some of the behaviours your child may be experiencing at home or at school.

The National Sleep Foundation in the US found that more than half of the parents surveyed said their 15-17 year olds on average managed around seven hours sleep a night. That is less than most adults, at a time when their young brains need more sleep for growth, development and learning. This demonstrates that these teenagers from the population surveyed are being chronically deprived of sleep over the long term. How much time is recommended for teenagers?

- Older teens need 8.5-10 hours of sleep per night.
- Younger teens need 9-10 hours per night.
- Young children need 10-11 hours per night.

What is the effect of blue light on sleep?
Melatonin is the hormone associated with night and signals that it is time for us to go to sleep. The pineal gland (an organ in the brain about the size of a pea), begins to release melatonin a couple of hours prior to your regular bedtime, and LIGHT – particularly the blue variety – can keep the pineal gland from releasing melatonin, causing the onset of sleeplessness. The problem is that although most of our screens emit light of all colours, it is the blue type that poses the most risk to sleep. Even the smallest amount of blue light that hits the eye can be enough to shut down the pineal gland (preventing or retarding the release of melatonin). In his latest study, Steven Lockley from the Harvard Medical School found that teenagers are more vulnerable to the effects of blue light than adults. Even when exposed to just one tenth as much light as adults were, teens actually suppressed more melatonin than adults. During adolescence, the circadian rhythm shifts and teens feel more awake at night, so switching on the TV or video game at night just before bed will push off feelings of sleepiness to even later.

What is affected when sleep is lacking?
Sleep is vitally important for learning, memory, brain development and health, especially in young people. Sleep influences four main areas:

1. Physiology – body systems such as cardiovascular and endocrine systems and physical health.
2. Psychological – emotional and mental health.
3. Psychosocial – behaviour and peer and family relationships.

Ms Smart and her colleagues believe that many teens and younger children are misdiagnosed with ADHD, depression or other issues, when they are in fact, sleep deprived and very few people question their sleep habits. In addition, young people already struggling with anxiety and/or depression, learning difficulties and so on, will find their symptoms exacerbated when their brains are starved of sleep. Therefore when we continually allow our children to go to bed late, we are sleep depriving them during a time when their brains are still developing and ultimately inhibiting their learning.
FROM THE GUIDANCE COUNSELLOR

Recognising sleep deprivation.
Some young people and adolescents display tiredness not by yawning or falling asleep at their desk, but by emotional outbursts, crying or bouts of anger. This essentially affects relationships with family and peers.

Recommended pre sleep wind down:
• Get exercise during the day to boost sleep at night.
• Eat dinner a few hours before going to bed (a small snack later is fine).
• Switch off screens an hour before bedtime, at a minimum.
• Get into a good bedtime routine – this gets the brain prepared for sleep.
• Engage in reading activities at bedtime, rather than games or shows with flashing lights and movement.

What about homework?
When homework needs to be done, you can turn down the brightness setting on the screen. It has also been said that the distance between your eyes and the device as well as the size of the screen can make a difference to the effects on the brain. Place the screen further away for your face if possible. Ideally, teens and younger children should have finished homework, sport training or musical instrument training (and any other extra curricula activities) before 8.30pm. In reality, there will be later than normal bedtimes, but these should be limited. Ms Smart also recommends that an afternoon nap can be quite beneficial for teens who lead busy lives.

In conclusion, Collett says that the bottom line is best represented by a quote from Dr Seton ..... “There’s a strong correlation between electronic media usage and sleep deprivation. It doesn’t matter how good the education is; if kids are tired, the learning is futile.”

Kind regards,

Mrs Michelle Hall
Guidance Counsellor

DATTA QUEENSLAND - ASSOCIATION AWARDS

Congratulations to Darcy Cant (Year 9) and Dayna Scapin (Year 10) who both won awards at the recent DATTA Awards held in Cairns. Also pictured is Mr Paul McLennan, who was the recipient of a teacher’s award.
STUDENT SUCCESS STORY - TOBY GREENWOOD

Toby took out first place in the U15’s category of the 2016 Gravity Enduro National Championships held at Eagle MTB Park, Mt Lofty near Adelaide. It capped off a remarkable racing season for Toby having taken 13 podium finishes out of 15 races during the year. The race was a 35km loop that linked 5 trails of amazing diversity, with the gravel, sand and rock of eagle, the black loam and crystal clear creek crossing of Cleland and the insane off camber, tight tech madness of Waterfull Gully; the course challenged all riders. Despite Saturday’s practice being dry, Sunday was the total opposite with the venue receiving around 46mm of rain forcing race organisers to cut some of the stages. With sections of stage 3 unrideable, riders started at the half-way mark and finished on stage 5. The icy conditions turned some of the sections into slippery slides and it was difficult for riders to know how hard to ride and what the trail conditions ahead would be like. Most riders had a stack at some point in the day. Given the conditions, it was a nervous wait for competitors, spectators and organisers.

Congratulations Toby!

STUDENT SUCCESS STORY - AUSTRALIAN AIR FORCE CADETS

From 14-16 October 2016, the Australian Air Force Cadets of North Queensland, were invited to RAAF base at Townsville to participate in the 75th anniversary events which included the Freedom of Entry Parade and the Open day hosted by the Air Force Base. This involved a march along the esplanade, watching the Airshow presenting old and new Aircraft, and also an open day where the public were invited to enter the Base and to walk on the runway to inspect the many displays which showcased the facilities and opportunities within the Air Force. The Cadets were privileged to see the fly pass of the Super-Hornets and had an opportunity to witness the famous Roulettes fly over. As well as witnessing the dog handlers display, the public and cadets were also given a chance to explore many different aircrafts and were given opportunities to sit in the pilot’s seats or to explore the rest of the aircraft. Cadets who participated from 106 Squadron (Mareeba) were just a few out of over 400 who attended. The event was a complete success and as a result these fine cadets have now become a part of history.

STUDENT SUCCESS STORY - JAMIE HEWITT-TOMS

Jamie recently competed at the North Queensland Show Jump Championships and represented St Stephen’s Catholic College in the interschool events. Jamie won both the 80cm and 100cm classes and was awarded the overall interschool champion. Congratulations Jamie!

STUDENT SUCCESS STORY - ALAINA SMITH

Alaina has been selected in the North Queensland team for the Surf Life Saving State Tiles being held next year. As part of her on-going training and commitment, Alaina attended the Northern Australian Championships held recently.

Pool Rescue
First in Patient Tow and 4x
Second in Brick Carry
Third in Obstacle 100m swim

Surf Competition
Third in Board Rescue
Fourth in Surf Team and Cameron Relay

Alaina made the finals for all other events that she competed in and has also been selected as the first reserve for the under 13 girls Queensland Country Representative Team. Congratulations Alaina!
STUDENT SUCCESS STORY - SABINE CONOLLY

Sabine Conolly (Year 11) has been invited to attend the United Nations Youth Assembly in New York this coming February. This is a fantastic opportunity for Sabine and this allows her to engage with like-minded youth on a larger stage.

Launched in 2004, the Annual Youth Assembly at the United Nations is a unique platform aimed at fostering dialogue and generating partnerships between exceptional youth, private sector, civil society, and the U.N. community. It enables youth to become active participants in the success of the new Sustainable Development Goals. Its vision is to create substantive opportunities for increased youth involvement at and surrounding U.N. activities, personal career development in civil society, and by extension the promotion of democratic values, international partnership, and a renewal of commitment to the United Nations as a vehicle for peace, diplomacy and human security.

Over the past twelve years, this initiative of Friendship Ambassadors Foundation has grown into the premier youth event at the U.N.’s global headquarters in New York. Each session, it brings together hundreds of young people from around the world who seek practical ways to contribute to the implementation of the United Nations’ Sustainable Development Goals, global networking, and social entrepreneurship skills, as well as meeting with and contributing to civil society formally affiliated with the United Nations. For additional information on the Youth Assembly, please visit our website (www.youthassembly.nyc)

Congratulations Sabine!

NOTICE

Pathfinders is a not-for-profit organisation funded by the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet to provide free birth certificates for young Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people aged between 0 and 21. About 1/3 of all Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children born in Australia each year (6,000) do not register their births or obtain birth certificates in their first year of life. This makes them particularly vulnerable to missing out later in life.

Pathfinders want every Australian to have a birth certificate, and to make our nation a fairer place. They want everyone to develop a legal and personal identity, to be full citizens, to contribute to society, and get the most out of life. They are also asking governments to make birth certificates free and automatic at birth, so future generations of Australians will not have to fill out paperwork and pay for this basic right of citizenship.

For more information on this program, please contact Mrs Michelle Hall (Guidance Counsellor) for further information.
Dear Principal

During the past two years, the Queensland Curriculum and Assessment Authority (QCAA) has laid the groundwork for a new system of senior assessment and tertiary entrance. Our achievements include:

- conducting two rounds of public consultation on 35 draft syllabuses
- trialling external assessments in seven subjects with more than 20,000 students
- developing and trialling new processes for strengthening school-based assessment
- launching School Portal and commencing redevelopment of existing ICT systems
- engaging thousands of teachers and other education partners in the change process.

Although there has been significant progress, some transition activities will require more time to complete than originally planned. In particular, this means the redevelopment of senior syllabuses and the delivery of nearly 700 professional development workshops to about 17,000 teachers.

The extension will ensure that teachers have sufficient support to become completely familiar with the new system. It will also allow QCAA to analyse the findings of assessment trials and consult further with our education partners. A change of this magnitude cannot be rushed if it is to be successful for students and schools.

An immediate consequence is that the conference for principals in March 2017 at the Brisbane Convention and Entertainment Centre will be postponed until Term 4, 2017.

I look forward to discussing the implications of the revised timeline with you at the information sessions in late October and November for principals, school leaders and parent representatives.

Yours sincerely

Chris Rider

Dear Lord,

Let me be just what they need.

If they need someone to trust, let me be trustworthy. If they need sympathy, let me sympathize. If they need love, (and they do need love), let me love, in full measure.

Let me not anger easily, Lord but let me be just. Permit my justice to be tempered in your mercy.

When I stand before them, Lord, let me look strong and good and honest and loving. And let me be as strong and good and honest and loving as I look to them.

Help me to counsel the anxious, crack the covering of the shy, temper the rambunctious with a gentle attitude.

Permit me to teach only the truth. Help me to inspire them so that learning will not cease at the classroom door.

Let the lessons they learn make their lives fruitful and happy. And, Lord, let me bring them to You. Teach them through me to love You.

Finally, permit me to learn the lessons they teach.

A Prayer for Teachers on World Teachers’ Day 2016

Giver of all wisdom and greatest of all teachers,

Look upon our teachers with love.

Grant them the resolve to nurture eager minds

And to never give up on those who fall behind.

Bless their hearts.

Endow them with gentle patience, for the path of learning is never easy.

Kindle a spirit of passion in them, for it is the flame that ignites the love of learning.

Help them see the potential in each student

For their belief means much more than the grades that are achieved.

Instil in them a commitment to keep on learning,

To embrace new knowledge and experiences.

Inspire them to touch the future with their expertise

For they influence how big a dream students dream.

Bless those who have come before, for their work endures to this day.

Bless those who support them in their roles in our school.

Let the light of Your example, Lord shine upon all teachers.

To build up with their words,

To love with their minds, and

To share with their hearts.

Amen
